Overview:

Mobile devices are no longer just a convenience—they have taken over personal and business communications worldwide. Today, cell phones, smart phones and PDAs are a part of everyday life. They allow us to communicate and store vast amounts of information and data. This information and data can be retrieved, and is being used more and more in criminal cases nationwide. Investigators are finding that cell phones and cellular service providers are becoming a vast source of evidence upon which we are just grasping.

This seminar will familiarize investigators with the basics of cell phone technology, what information and data is contained in these phones, forensic methods used in retrieval, cell site analysis, and the information available from cellular service providers. The seminar is designed for Investigators to have a better understand of using mobile devices as evidence in criminal cases.
